

Join us June 15th – 17th, 2018, in Lake George, New York as hundreds of active and retired law enforcement officers from across the country gather for a weekend full of fun and relaxation with their families and friends in the Queen of the American Lakes!

In the fall of 2014, Police Officer Austin Glickman of the NYPD designed the original building blocks of Law Enforcement Officers Weekend (LEO Weekend) while training as a police recruit in the New York City Police Academy. Over the next three years, Austin worked with the Mayor of Lake George, Robert Blais (retired law enforcement) and New York State Corrections Officer, David Linehan, to design a three day event unlike any others in the law enforcement community. LEO Weekend is specially designed to allow attendees the ability to relax, unwind, compete in friendly competitions, network with peers, attend seminars, enjoy family-friendly events, experience the local nightlife, pay respects to fallen law enforcement officers and so much more!

In February of 2017, LEO Weekend became a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization with an added mission of raising money through charitable donations to bring families of fallen law enforcement officers on an all-expenses paid vacation to our annual weekend. On May 19th, 2017, LEO Weekend became reality when Mayor Blais welcomed nearly 100 active and retired officers, their families and friends to our inaugural event in Lake George. We also had the honor and privilege of welcoming the families of New York State Trooper Brian Falb and New York City Deputy Chief James Molloy, whom both tragically succumbed to 9/11 related illnesses earlier in the year. By May 21st, we received overwhelming feedback by our attendees, securing our belief that our event will become an annual weekend for all those who walk and support the Thin Blue Line.

Event tickets are going fast and hotel reservations need to be secured as soon as possible. Please go to www.LEOWeekend.com to register and learn more about everything our organization has to offer. We look forward to meeting you on June 15th and welcoming you to our LEO Weekend family!
